My dearest, sweetest, amazingly little Gene,

Well to be picturesque I'll say at last we have come to the end of the most funnest days of our life. We really are a swell bunch and I flatter myself to think that I spent part of three years in your good graces. The tournaments, picnics, and lake excursion were the limit for fun. I guess this knowledge of proves that you are an "ar-tent". Just for the heck of it let's keep in touch with each other next year in college.

Dedication

For extending to us your helping hand and guiding us calmly through the perplexities of life as green froshies, for bolstering our morales and backing our ideas through the trials and tribulations of being juniors, for retaining your undying patience toward us throughout our reign as seniors, for all these and a million more, we, the class of 1949, sincerely dedicate this Searchlight to you, Miss Eleanor Schroeder, our ineffable class adviser.

Forward

A high school annual is a treasure chest of memories—memories of some of the most wonderful years of our lives. The Searchlight staff of 1949 has tried to bring back some of these memories long after high school days. We hope we have recaptured on paper some of the laughter, gaiety and promise that has floated down these halls.

MR. PAUL A. MILLER

Each year it seems the problems of living become more and more complicated. Pioneer days may have had their hardships, but they also had their compensating simplicity. Today's world is marked by its own peculiar hardships plus a complexity never dreamed about in the days gone by. The major purpose of school and of education should be to provide intelligent understanding of these problems of living and to help each individual make those adjustments that will bring satisfaction not only to himself but also to people generally. This may not be fully apparent to the student while he is in school. Let us hope, however, that further maturity and the reflection of later years will bring to each senior a realization that the activities set forth on these pages and that some of the lessons of school have made no small contribution toward achieving life's ultimate goal.

MISS ELSIE THAL

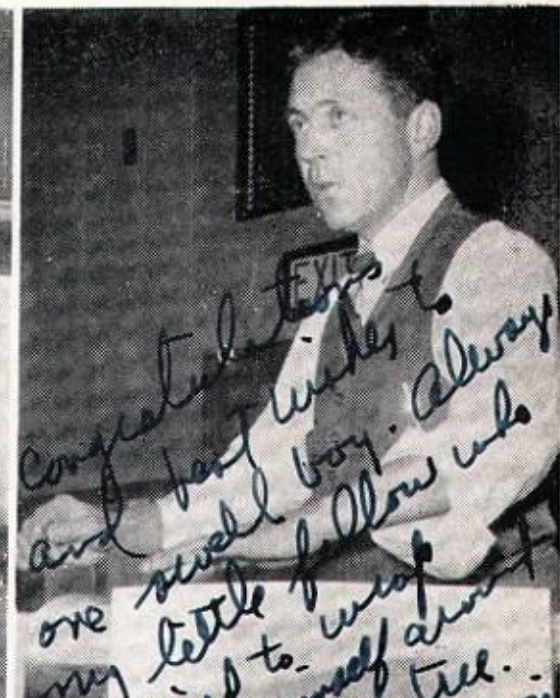

Searchlights are primarily picture stories of Minot high school year by year. The staff has had a great responsibility thrust on its shoulders and dependent upon the acceptance of that responsibility is the success of the Searchlight. So, too, is the success of any school year dependent upon the acceptance of many responsibilities by many people, teachers and students alike. At times students refuse to accept these responsibilities and as a consequence school dances become cancelled, student councils do not function, plays are not financially successful and our citizenship is questioned by others. Your principal from time to time makes decisions which in substance say, "If you want a dance, a student council, or a successful play, then work for it. Do not expect people to hand you these things on a silver platter." He does this because you are young adults and as such must learn to work and assume the responsibilities necessary to the obtaining of the objects of your desire. The United States is dependent upon its citizens accepting the responsibilities of citizenship. There is no better time than now in your own school.

Class History

Nigh onto twelve years for most of us, and fourteen years for some, clad in our new pair of shoes, the future criminals of the class of forty-nine entered their newest field of crime — school! From the very first day, tender romances blossomed. Fate brought together couples such as Bob Wheeler and Marlene Klimple, Roger Huizenga and Bev Strilcove, and the fairest of all, Gene Wicks and Florence Cybulko. At Lincoln Bev Chrislock started her life of juvenile delinquency. She stayed home every chance she could get because of a dislike for the teacher. Roosevelt school was the breeding ground for all the "Al Capones" of this generation. No team dared beat the Roosevelt squad, for if they did, a bloody massacre would be their way of saying goodbye. The three worst ringleaders were Dennis Nelson, Ron Clott, and Bob White. The mention of these three names spelled terror in the hearts of the McKinley kids. At McKinley the most steady couple was Alice Mulvihill and Duane Lyders, while the favorite banquet hall was Marilyn Olson's house. Their favorite after-school "recreation" was a sling shot fight at the slough. Lincoln school and Betty Jordahl will never forget Betty's birthday, for Jim Thompson and Chuck Wolfe thoroughly beat up on her. Wilma Miller, sticking up for her friend, beat up Chuck on another occasion. Each year at Central the school waited breathlessly for the outcome of the race between Dean Schrepel and Helen Peters as to who would bring the Christmas tree. The situation was soon solved, for the larger of the trees was used for the hall. Sally Thomas and Grace Leslie must still have marks from their battles during recess. Every day a crowd would gather in a certain spot, and on further investigation, sure enough there were Grace and Sally slugging it out! The dread of the sixth graders every Friday afternoon was the music program, for everytime they had to either suffer with one of Wally Varberg's terrific violin solos or Marilyn Hensrud's rendition of "Dark Eyes" on the piano. All in all, grade school found us not very refined, but then we entered junior high and were we ever big then! How proud we were when we got our merit badges! And remember that dress-up day! Funny how we all had errands to do uptown that day! The most spectacular thing was our lockers. Remember those "logging" chains we wore around our neck with our key dangling on the end? No matter how ornate a dress or simple a sweater, no matter if we had two necklaces and a pin on, we still would feel undressed without our ever-faithful locker keys!

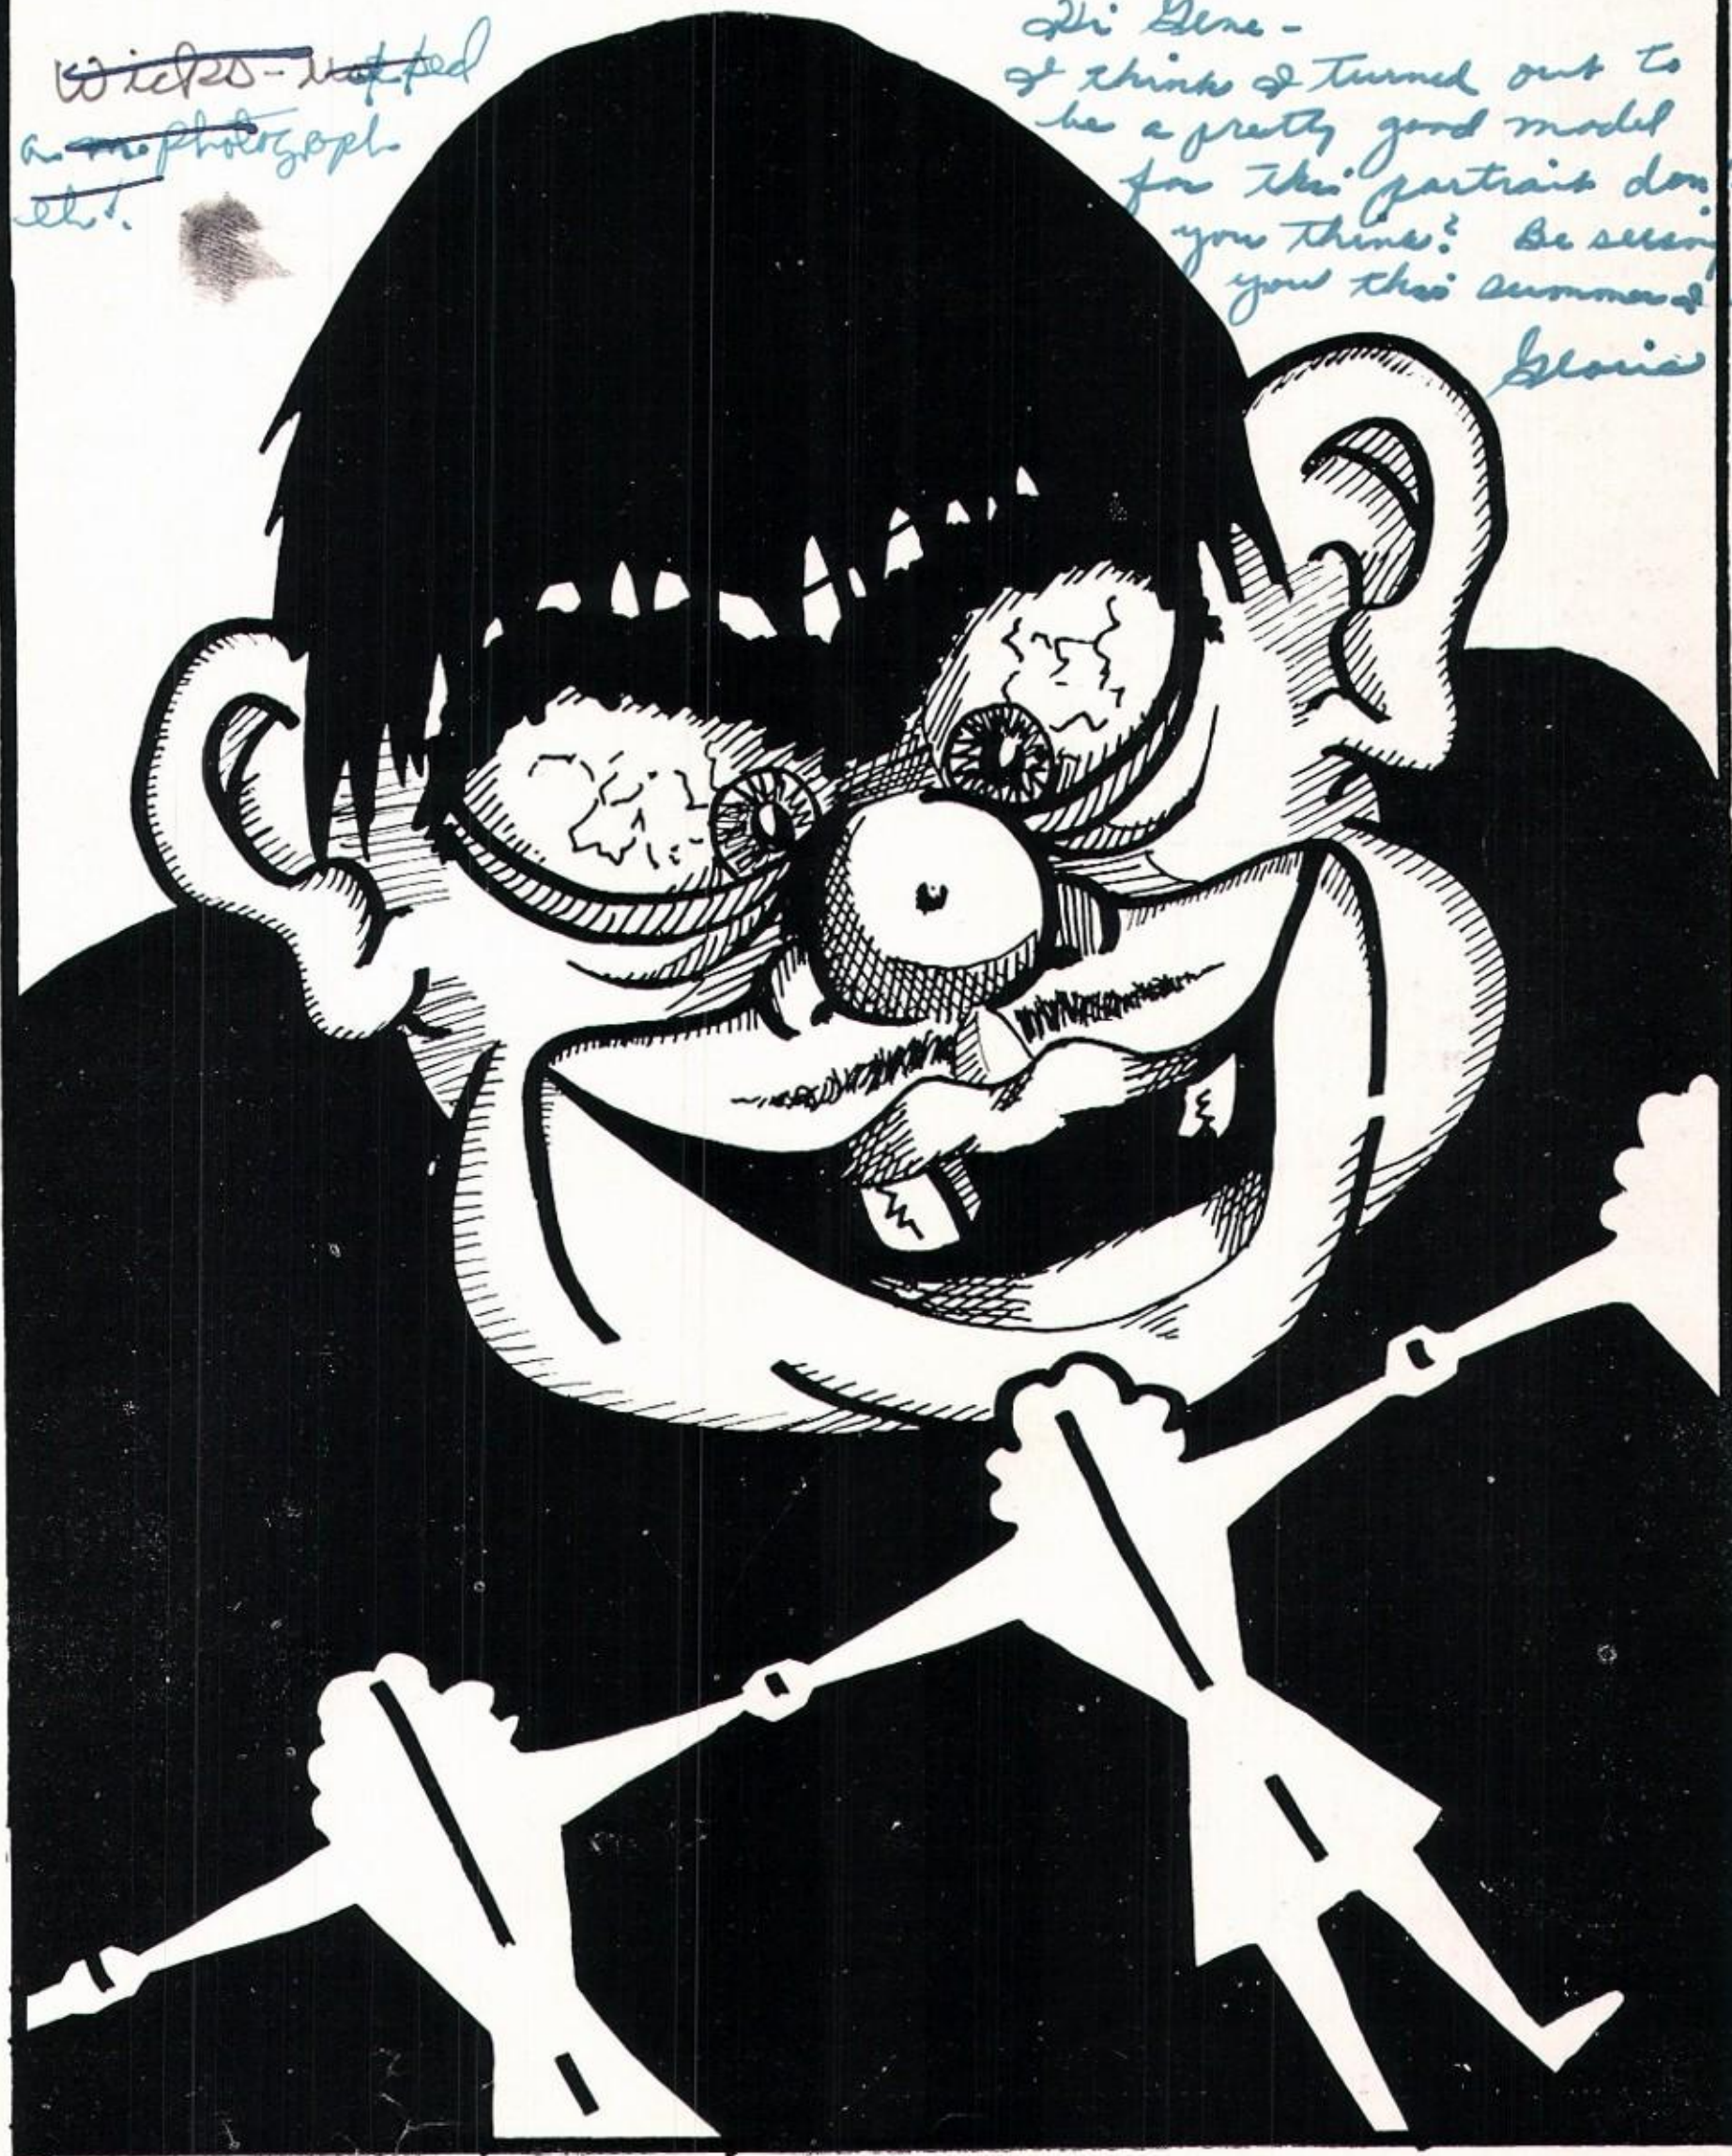

Then came the eighth grade and we exchanged home rooms again!—of all the luck, that cute boy got in 211 and I had to get in 213! In that year the girls got to work in the library. That was the most wonderful privilege in those days. Now, to trade a study hall to work behind the desk in the library is unheard of! At last we reached the most coveted grade of junior high—the ninth grade! Wow, were we wheels then! Remember those Rainbow dances? And the boys knew how to dance, too! Graduation was a thing too wonderful for the seventh graders to imagine. Our diplomas were cherished with great admiration, with their purple VELVET covering! And now the most wonderful part. We went on a picnic, with five chaperones of course, but we didn't go home till one-thirty!—Yes, I said ONE-THIRTY!

All our glory vanished the next year, for we became "green froshies." Oh the shame of it! How often we wished we were the wheels again! Now we began to know the wonder of having a dance every Friday. We didn't have one in junior high!—Also on rare occasions we found our names in the Minot High Times! By these small reminders that we yet were existing humans, we finally became accustomed to senior high. The tournament was another of our great ventures. Remember how proud we were when we came back bragging how good the baby buffalos were at Finney's drugstore? Our junior year is probably the most cherished year for the fact that we had our prom. Don't ya kind of get choked up when you hear the familiar strains of "The Stars Will Remember?" You think of all the work. Remember the star?—Your mind tingles with the memory of its beauty! Gee, that's a thing we'll remember always! Then came our senior year and again we were the oldest. The highlight of this was Loyalty day and having our own queen. Then came our class rings, the tournament with our great basketball team, and finally graduation. We will always get a lump in our throats as we think of leaving MHS, for it was here that we found true happiness. All our thoughts can be summed up in these familiar words—"Minot High School, hats off to thee. To our colors true we will ever be. Firm and strong, united are we. Rah, rah, rah, sis boom bah, rah, rah, rah, sis boom bah, HATS OFF TO MINOT HIGH !!!"

REPRESENTATIVE STUDENTS

FRANK MCLANE

Heralded far and wide as "Pierre" or "The Nose," Frank has been active in Playmakers—taking the lead in many roles,—High Times and Searchlight, sports editor, Hi-Y club, Key club, Thespians, and and reserve basketball. Frank always has a hand in livening things up when the tide of life is low.

JOYCE MARTIN

Lively Joyce Martin has participated in many activities during her years at Minot High. In her senior year she served as secretary of the senior class and of the student council. The job as copy-editor for the High Times also fell on her shoulder for two semesters. This talent placed her in Quill and Scroll and on the Magician staff. Joyce is also a member of the first debate team. In spite of all this she has found time to be active in band, be on the honor roll and serve as home room president.

MARILYN HENSRUD

Pert Marilyn Hensrud, more commonly known by her friends as "Liz," has made her presence well felt in Minot High. She has been active in A capella choir, Quill and Scroll and the Magician staff. In her senior year Liz was president of the Pep club member of the Loyalty day queens court and also feature editor on the High Times for two semesters.

DEAN SCHREPEL

Active Dean Schrepel has shown his executive ability in many respects. He was business manager of the High Times, a home room officer every year and president of Key club. As president of Quill and Scroll, Dean was editor of the Magician. Along with his outside activities Dean is an outstanding saxophone player in the band.

GRETA BREAW

Vivacious and sparkling are two words that describe Greta Breaw. Her outstanding personality has made her well known and well liked everywhere. Greta served as secretary of her class in both her junior and froshmore years. She was an active member of band and playmakers. During her junior year she was president of A cappella and very prominent in oratory work. For two semesters the High Times claimed her services. In her senior year she was active in Quill and Scroll, serving as secretary. She was also a member of the queen's court and Minot High's DAV queen candidate.

WALLY VARBERG

Possessor of one of the most radiating personalities in the school—although in a subdued sort of way—as well as being the outstanding all around athlete, would be a description as appropriate of Wally as one is likely to find. If success in activities undertaken means anything then Wally should be at the top of the list. In athletics, he went out for track, junior legion baseball, basketball and football—winning statewide recognition in the latter two. Varberg also served three years in band and held office as junior class vice-president and senior class president.

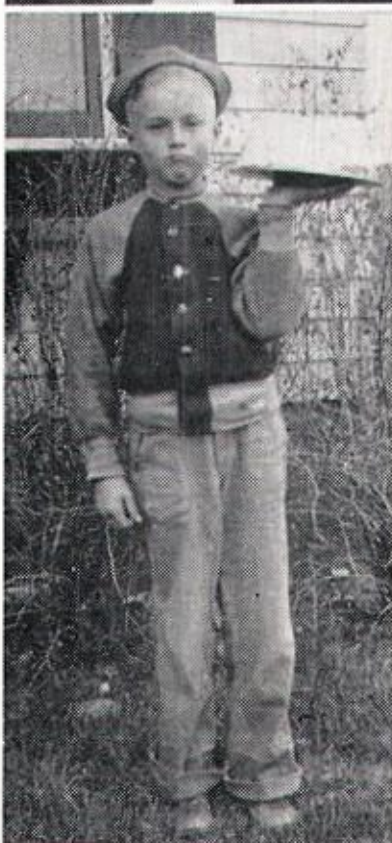

MITSTUE YANAGITA

The energetic editor of the '49 Searchlight has had the opportunity to show her executive ability in every organization in which she has participated. As junior class president, she lead the successful prom. She was a home room officer, vice - president of library club, secretary of ushers club, a committee member for Loyalty day, and in debate. She was also active in the executive council. In spite of all outside activities and being valedictorian of the '49 class, she is one of the most popular girls in school.

BOB WHEELER

Dependable Bob Wheeler always has a cheery smile and gay "hello" for everyone. Bob never lets anyone down. He was a representative to the athletic council in his froshmore and junior years. As well as being a class officer for three years, he has done outstanding work as manager of basketball and football and as a member of the prom and executive committees.

Class Will

Now the year is over,
And so has come the time,
To will the fond possessions,
Of the class of forty-nine.
We give them to the froshmores,
To mighty juniors too,
We hope that you will like them,
Even though they aren't quite new.

Doran Evenson leaves his U. S. history ability—finally.

Jack Cushman leaves!

Bonny Yineman leaves her song "Texarcana Baby" to the future A cappella choirs of MHS.

Gene Wicks leaves his shiek overcoat to all the fashion-minded froshmore boys.

Jack Cushman leaves!

Lloyd Mitchell wills Bill Melberg's charm over the junior girls to the junior boys.

Donna Bondly and Ramona Wilkes leave, wearing identical graduation gowns.

Troupe Stevick leaves—oops, he already left.

Chuck Wolfe leaves singing "But Beautiful."

Claryce Thompson leaves her ability to carry a tune to anyone who is stronger.

Jack Cushman leaves!

Mary Meyer wills her chemistry grades back to Mr. Robinson.

Frank McLane wills his—nose, I guess he'll need it, all three inches of it.

Rich Dippong leaves his civics book to Mr. Laabs—with a charge of $2.

Bev Huizenga wills her last name to Muriel Brudviek.

La Donna Peterson leaves her clean jokes to Mr. Kirschbaum.

Jack Cushman leaves!

Charles Hanson leaves his nickname to Pat McDonnel.

Floy Strain leaves her last name, for she'll have a new one in June anyway.

Jack Cushman leaves!

Grace Leslie leaves her basketball ability to future Magicians of MHS.

Larry Selk leaves. There will now be a moment of silence while the junior girls mourn.

Betty Parizek leaves with her first name, cutting the number of Bettys down to 49.

Jack Cushman leaves!

John Thomas leaves singing "What is This Thing Called Life."

Paul Bergem leaves his two front teeth to Dick Thompson in case of emergency.

Virginia Pratt and Marilyn Walker leave for Billy Rose's Diamond Horeshoe chorus line.

Jack Cushman leaves!

Virginia Wolhowe leaves all the mispronunciation of her name in hope that college will correct it.

Jack Cushman leaves!

The whole senior class leaves all the sleepless nights due to Miss Ackermann's long papers to all future seniors of MHS.

For the benefit of all, Jack Cushman wants it to be known that he is tired of school and now will be leaving.

And now you've read our will
And hear us breathe a sigh,
For now has come the time,
When we must say goodbye.
We hope you will remember us,
The class of forty-nine,
And we hope we will not vanish,
In the endless span of time.

Class Prophecy

In the dimly lighted barroom a lone figure is seen barely standing up. He gleefully watches the flies as they hover over the mess he has made in an effort to hit the inside of the dozen glasses he sees. His shoes are in a rather air-conditioned state, and his hair is almost shoulder-length from lack of funds to pay a barber. We venture further and recognize this haggard creature as Wally Varberg, former president of the class of forty-nine. On further inquiry, we find out that he has taken up the occupation of drowning his sorrows for he considers himself the only failure of his class. We venture to his side and ask, "Aren't you Wally Varberg, class president in forty-nine?" His blood-shot eyes turn our way, and a glimmer of life comes into his soul as he says, "Ah, what a class! Everyone has made something of himself except me. Even Duane Lyders gave up the old game and settled down to an honest life running third street's most respectable gambling casino. Kenny Olson is employed as his number one side-kick, cleaning spittoons for extra money. Doran Evenson has a profitable business on Main street, for he took up the management of the Rose Teefy Corset shop. Marian Larson and Ray Mayoue are now joined in marital bliss and are the proprietors of the Mayoue Beauty salon. Bob Wheeler and Gene Wicks are heard each Saturday evening over K L P M as they present their show, "The Old Fashioned Revival Hour." Between programs Gene is heard doing his singing commercial for Eidelweiss Beer. Barbara Holmes is now editing the famous magazine, "Nudists' Bazzar." Dale Stowell has attained great fame as the world's most perfectly developed man. Many times we have seen his image on the cover of any magazine, posing with the one hair which he grew on his chest with the aid of Vigoro. Red Hanson is his running mate, posing as the "before" part of the pictures.

Paul Bergem is a most respectable businessman now. He is especially noted for the exquisite dinners he has for his friends. He is employed as garbage collector at $10 a month plus all he can eat. LaDonna Peterson and Joyce Martin are living together since the departure of their husbands—Mitch and Melberg. They joined the Salvation Army and are fighting at distant shores. Greta Breaw and Gail Grubb are serving their second stretch at Alcatraz for shoplifting at Woolworths again. This time they acquired a deck of cards and a toothbrush, so they are living quite comfortably. Connie Isaacson spent the past year at San Haven getting tests because of her back. After two years of tests she finally admitted it was her Marajuna cigarettes and is now awaiting trial desperately saying she will now be near Robert Mitchum. Ken Zastera is the chief taster at the Jordahl, Parris, and Westphal, Inc. Brewery. His rather lubricated state at the end of the day is of great joy to his wife, Pat Launt, for then she has a chance to sneak out to meet her secret lover, Gordon Johnson. Leslie Kleven is running a very swanky nightclub in New York. He has followed through in his modest manner, in the naming of his establishment, for he receives his guest in the Tarnished Silver Room of his "Rhinestone Horseshoe." Barry DuPuis is now teaching Home Ec. Every Tuesday night he holds an advanced knitting class. Gloria Parizek eloped with our janitor and now lives two doors down on this side of the stockyards from Phyllis Newnam who married Chuck Wolfe, a worthless thing who makes money by selling cigarette butts he finds.

Doris Gordon has retired on the proceeds from her famous novel "Forever Doris." Phyllis Huus is now a piano teacher. As a result all Mr. and Mrs. J. Polsfut's little 8 foot darlings can play "Little Bobolink" perfectly. Rich Dippong has completed his third year in the Snake Pit and hopes to be graduated in the spring. The inmates find him very annoying, for they have to bear with his "Daffy Duck" talk night and day. As a result of the radio - controlled cue ball, LaJean Eckert has taken over the management of Ernie's. For the benefit of the MHS boys, this establishment is located in the basement of the Public Library. Marv Avery and Larry Selk are very outspoken and active now, contrary to their high school days. They are members in good standing, of the Holy Rollers. Norman Borud and Norman Killmer have their pictures in the postoffice now. The inscription below reads, "Wanted dead or half dead." They are leaders of a notorious gang of cutthroats in Chicago. Jim Thompson spends all his time back in good old MHS recounting the votes for the all-school letter. Frank McLane has a job posing for a famous magazine. He poses as the forgotten husband on all the covers of "True Romances".

"Ah yes," Wally stammers, "What a class!"

"And what was this disaster that made you a failure, the thing which brought about your downfall," we ask.

"B. O." replies Wally.

Loyalty Day

QUEEN JOAN TEETS

Joan Teets was chosen by a large majority to reign as queen for Loyalty Day on Friday, October 8. Bunny Hanson and his orchestra furnished the music for the queen and her attendants: Donna Bondly, Greta Breaw, Gail Grubb, and Marilyn Hensrud. The girls, dressed in pastels of pink, white, blue, and green, were met on the stage by the co-captains, Jim Thompson and Wally Varberg. A short introductory speech named the queen, whose name had been kept a secret. The presenting of the robe, the crown and the kiss, which was willingly given by each co-captain, came next. Flowers, a sceptre, and a gift were presented by the class presidents. Two skits were given by the junior and senior girls, and Clarice Westphal sang. Following the coronation a parade went from the school through downtown Minot. The three best floats were rewarded with a prize. In the evening the football game was played on the college field with Williston. The royal party and escorts were honored at a large ball in the high school auditorium after the game. Cliff Alan and his orchestra provided the music for this gala affair. Hardy Lieberg and Madonna Seltun sang solos. Loyalty Day was made a success through the able work of Marilyn Hensrud, Pep Club President and her committees.

Hobo Hop

All Minot High went slumming on December 3, when the speech class held their Hobo Hop. Some of the kids looked better that night than they usually do, but no one dared to make any statement as such. The highlight of the evening was the crowning of our hobo king and queen, Joan Marshall and Eldon Cline, who dressed in their "regal attire," received the royal gifts of a can of beans and a cigar.

The Floor Show

The Carnival

"Step right up ladies and gents, see the monster. He's so horrible he's almost human, or try the fishpond, you get a prize with every try." These were a couple of the many cries heard at the Hi-Y Carnival held in the auditorium, November 11, 12, and 13. Each organization in school had a concession. Each was completely different from the other. In deep contrast was the horrible Chamber of Horrors to the not too horrible Tunnel of Love. One almost had to wear dark glasses, for the color combinations were slightly freakish. The purpose of the carnival was to raise money for an intercommunication system for the school. It was a huge success and everyone was well rewarded for the work he put in.

I suppose this is the colored section
I'll write here anyway.

Imaginary

Dear Nick,

All neighbors we've been thru H --- and high water together now ever since the 6th grade It's been 7 years of the sweetest friendships I've ever known.

We certainly have had some of the nicest pet names for each other, but I think that's just a sign that we can say what we want to each other and still not feel hurt. Well here's hoping we can continue this way we have been doing. Lots of luck

Nene, I hope you very successful in your art work,
it certainly speaks
for itself.

Invalid

This three-act play, written by Moliere and translated by Merrit Stone, is about a hypochondriac who selfishly seems about to ruin the life of his charming daughter by refusing to allow her to marry the man she loves. However, after having her devotion to him proved, he finally relents and all ends happily.

Mr. Kirschbaum, who directed this play, also designed all the stage settings and made the costumes himself.

my best friend Angel Street

This play centered around the efforts of Mr. Manningham, Frank McLane, to drive his wife, Connie Isaccson, insane. Richard Dippong and Jim Thompson, double cast as Rouge, played the part of a sly detective by whose efforts the villain is exposed and the heroine saved.

"The Stars Will Remember" the night we said goodbye, the stars will remember and so will the class of forty-nine. This prom, held on the rainy night of April 30, 1948, will always stand out in the memory of all of the students, but especially in the memory of the class of forty-nine. We will always remember the big star with its many streamers, the silhouettes on the walls, the theme in lights in the front, and the garden in back. Oh, yes, the 1948 prom was one the students and stars will remember.

Quill and Scroll Formal

"Little Jack Frost Get Lost, Get Lost," was the theme of the Quill and Scroll formal held February 26, 1949. Leading the grand march was Dean Schrepel, the president, and his partner, followed by the vice president, Marilyn Hensrud, who was followed by Greta Breaw, the secretary of Quill and Scroll. The auditorium was decorated in black and white, as winter was the main character. The decorations consisted of a black and white canopy fashioned in a fan-like design. The walls were decorated with an icicle design as well as snowflakes mounted on black paper. Music was provided by Bunny Hanson's orchestra, and the formal was a huge success with eighty elegant couples attending.

Bunny Hanson's Band

Sadie Hawkins Day Dance

All MHS girls and the boys they snared danced among the jugs and schmoos at the Sadie Hawkins Day Ball sponsored by the Quill and Scroll. The only entrance to the dance floor was a slide from the first balcony. After the boys compared corsages made of vegetables and what else was available at home, the dancing began—and what dancing! As they all went home, visions of butterflies danced in their heads.

Froshie

Oof,—this day was worse than chemistry, this hateful day of September 17, when the poor froshies got their traditional massacre from the juniors and seniors. Most of the froshies emerged from school looking like, “a weekend on a subway,” but all class distinction was soon forgotten at the dance held in their honor that evening.

Dear Dave,
Well, here we are, our last hour in Mr. D.S. It's been so much fun, hasn't it? Thanks for all the help you've given us in school and everything. You're art work is swell - all those likenesses of people. Wow! Maybe this has been written before - but good luck to a swell fellow - and I really mean it. Yours, Martin

Season Resume

Starting the season with a win, Minot nipped Devils Lake, 7-6. The victory was more decisive than the score would indicate. Thompson scored both the touchdown and the extra point.

In their first conference game the Magicians showed an unexpected passing attack and racked off a 20-0 victory at Dickinson's expense. Thompson scored two touchdowns and an extra point while Wolfe passed to McGinley for a touchdown and ran the extra point himself.

In the Loyalty Day game the home team was sadly disappointed by a hard running Williston team. The Magi were unable to open up their offense until the last quarter when Wolfe hit Dippong with a pass for one touchdown and then Thompson carried another over from the 3. Wolfe bootlegged the extra point. Williston won 34-13.

Although they were defeated by Mandan, 27-19, Minot made what was considered one of their best showings of the year. Touchdowns were made by Thompson, Lyders, and Berg with Dippong taking a pass from Wolfe for the only conversion.

Jamestown brought to town one of the best high school teams ever seen in Minot and took home a 37-6 victory. Thompson again hit pay dirt for the only Minot ally.

Starting an all senior line-up, Minot showed up well in all phases of offense and defense. The Magicians were up for the game, and were not to be denied a well-deserved 20-0 victory over Bismarck. Thompson hit two 6 pointers and 2 extra points, Luedke making the other touchdown. Varberg and Huizenga stood out on defense as they had all year long.

After 3 years of hard work Coach Petrich got his well-deserved wish, a state championship basketball team. He is very personable to meet and a clever, fiery, tactician who stands for little monkey business. He is a lover of sports for sports' sake.

Last summer's junior legion baseball coach, Ron Davy took over the assistant coaching duties of the state champs this year.

ST. LEO'S

Starting the season with a traditional game, Minot pounced on their neighbors from St. Leo's for a 65 to 30 tidbit. Wolfe was high point man for Minot with 17, while Varberg was not too far behind with 9. He also turned in a good defensive game.

Bill McGinley—Sr.; 6' 1½". An excellent all around player, Bill helped the Magi attain their ultimate goal - the state championship - by potting 221 points.

Waldo Varberg

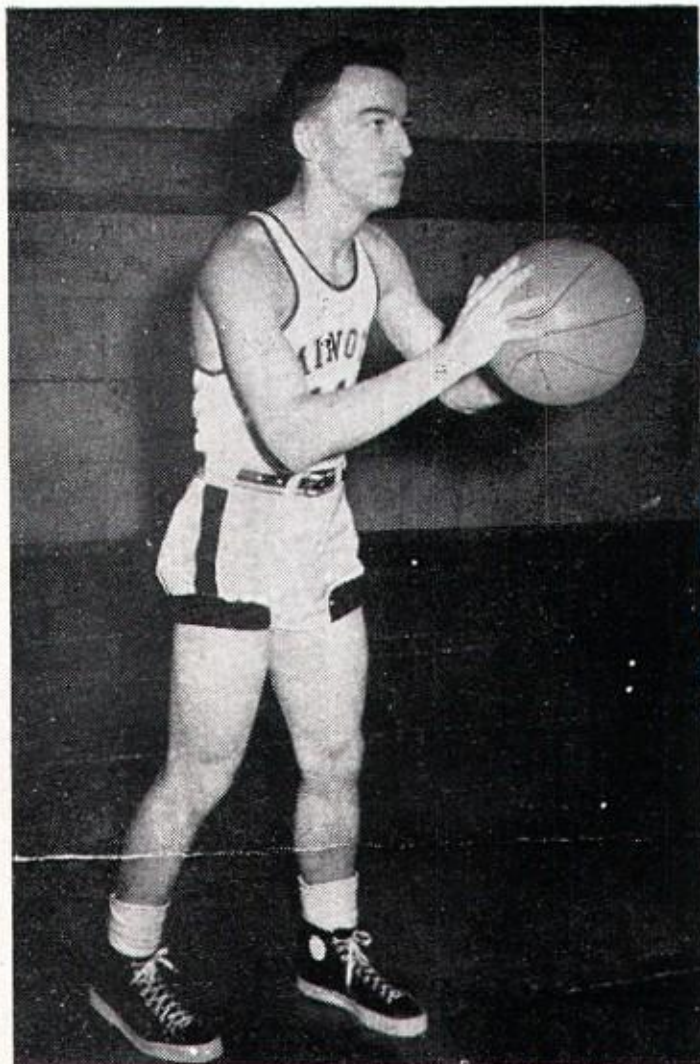

DICKINSON

Minot hit it off offensively and defensively against the Midgets and ran away with a 55-25 victory. Uncle Charley Wolfe pushed thru 7 and 7 for 21 mostly on rebounds. Varberg and Huizenga came off the defensive backboards with the ball in their hands most of the time.

Wally Varberg—Sr.; 5' 11". Acclaimed for his defensive ability, Wally was usually assigned to guard a high scoring opponent. Wally also excelled as a rebounder and disturbed the net to the tune of 162 markers.

Larry Selk

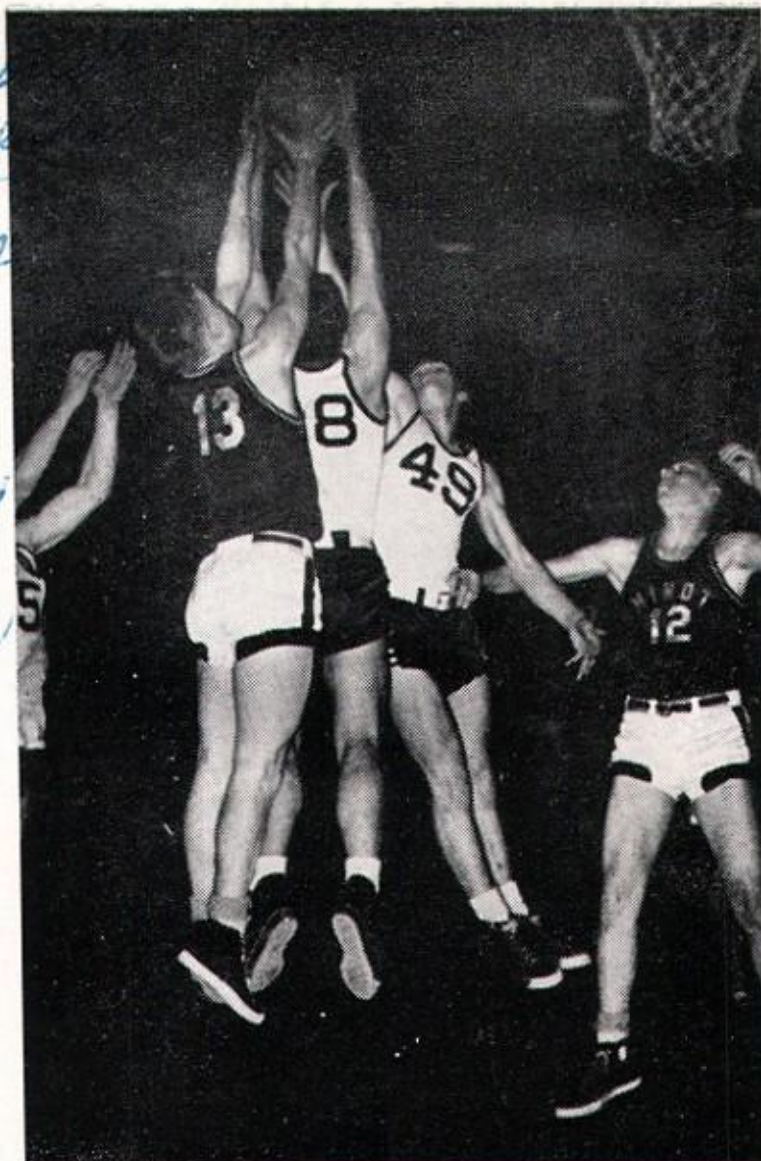

Larry Selk — Sr.; 5'9". The smallest man on the squad, reaching an altitude of only 5'9"; Larry stood out because of his brilliant floor play. Nevertheless, he managed to rack up 130 points.

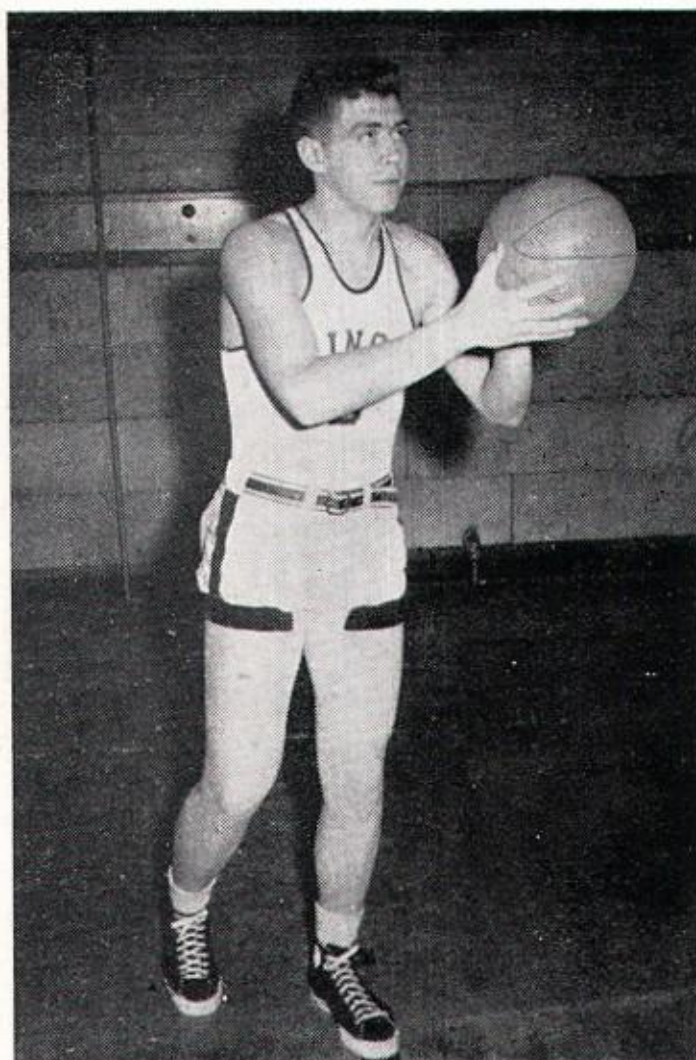

How do Gene!
well were all there at last eh? It sure been fun these last

Let's really miss
it next year!
Good luck in

Larry

BISMARCK

Minot made things hot for the Demons, who were expected to furnish more power than they did and flamed off with a 55-31 nod. As was his custom Wolfe scrambled up free throws and field goals for 19 points, while Varberg and Huizenga glued onto enough rebounds to merit mention.

Chuck Wolfe

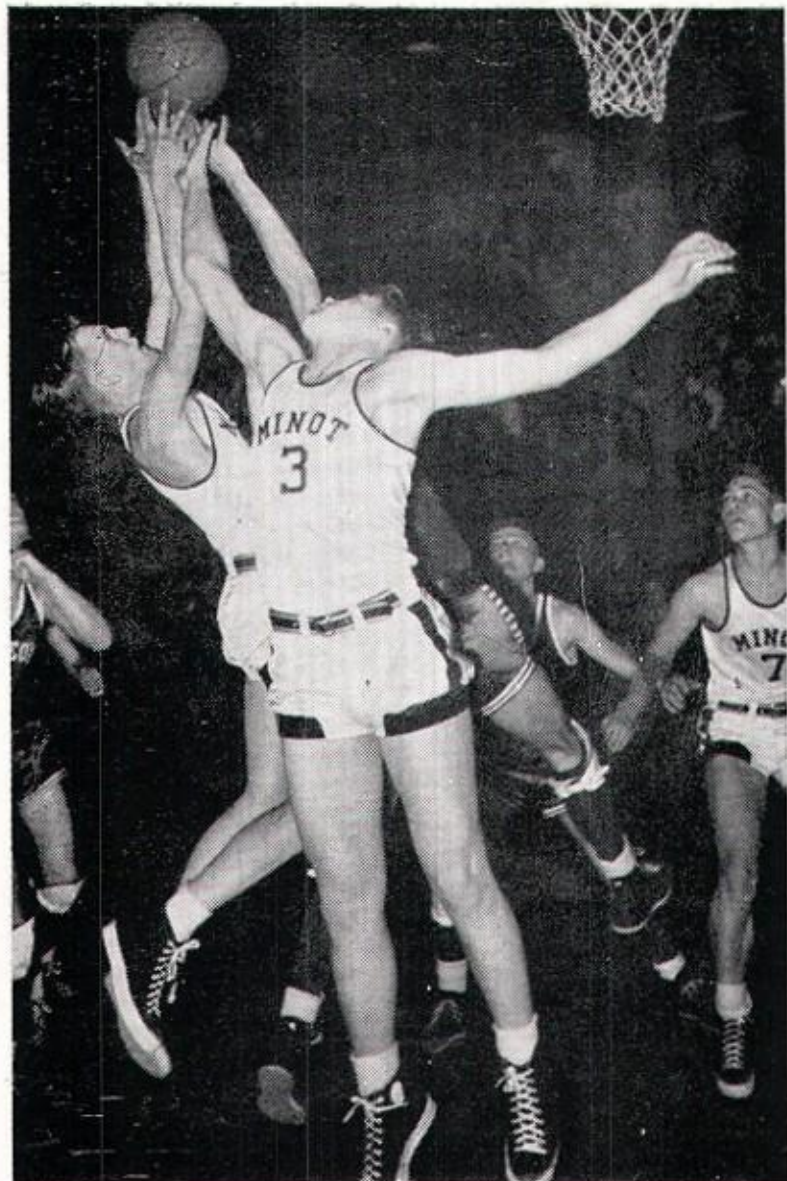

Chuck Wolfe — Sr.; 6'1½". Dig gun on Magician scoring machine, Chuck led all state scorers with 410 counters during the 1948-1949 season.

Hi Gene,
Boy, this was really the year of years,
huh? we really had fun and I hope it keeps up.
Well lots of
to really a success

DEVILS LAKE

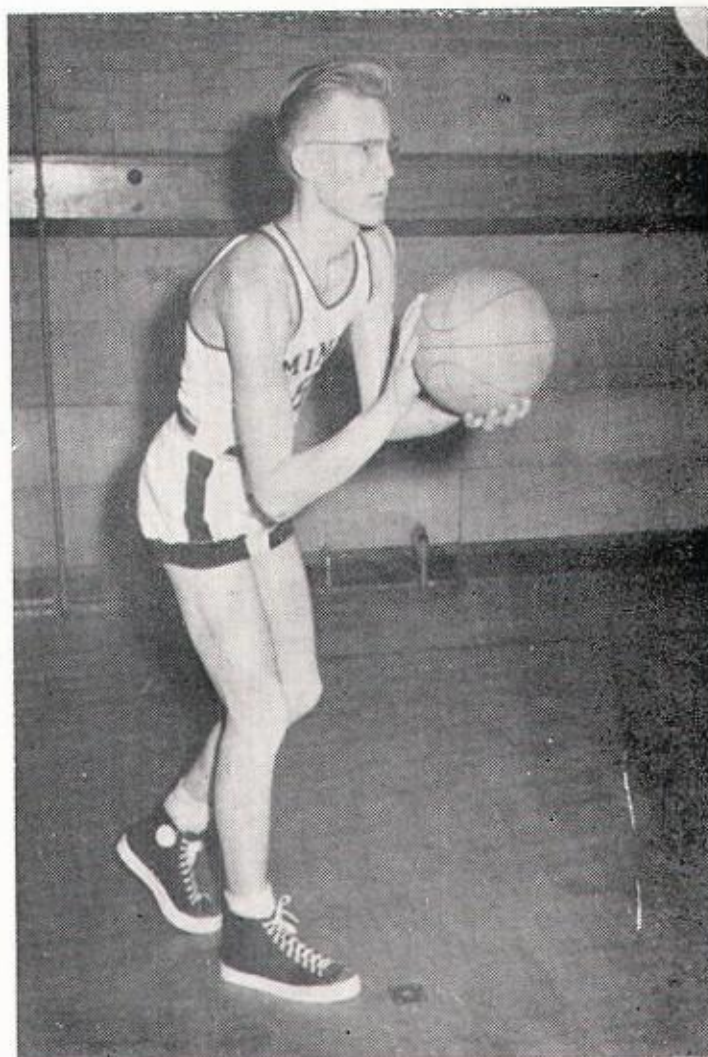

By throwing up a stiff zone defense, the Satans were also capable of throwing a scare into the Magicians for better than three quarters. The Magi finally unbuttoned the zone and proceeded to sew up the game with a 39-20 final count. Wolfe and McGinley ran 15 and 10 points respectively, and Huizenga walked away with defensive honors.

WILLISTON

Minot got enough of the Coyotes' pelts to fashion up a pretty jacket with pockets for the 53-43 victory. Just to break the monotony, Selk, the Smoothie, took scoring honors and buttoned in 15. Varberg and Huizenga sewed up Williston pointmakers and sleeved thru 12 points between them.

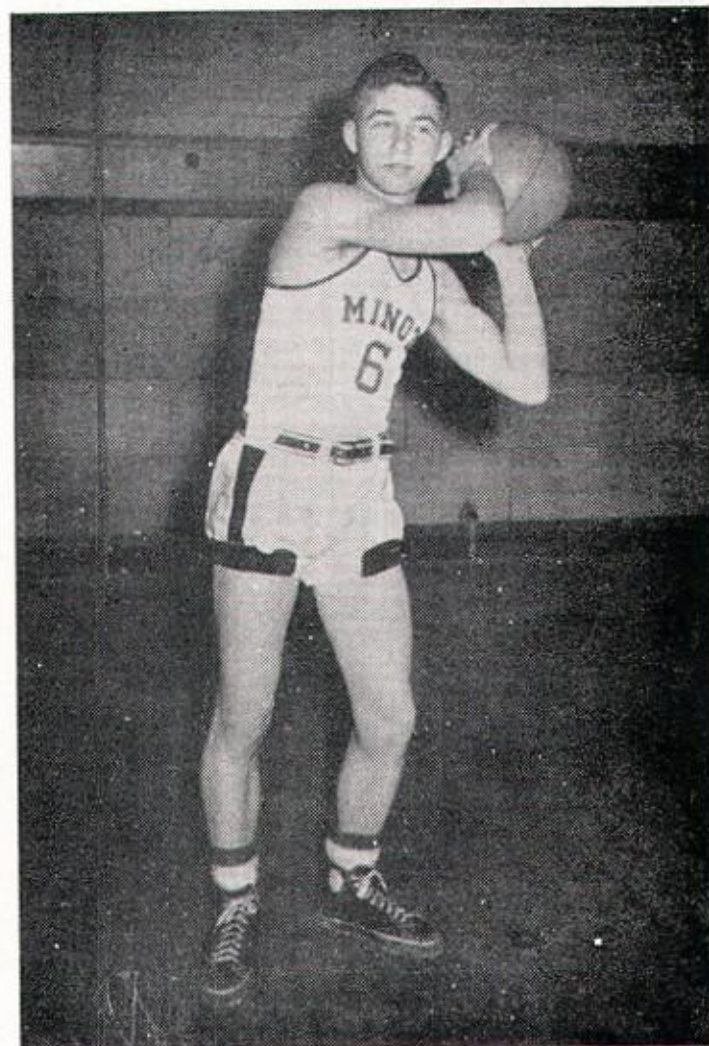

Roger Huizenga—Sr.; 6'2". The tallest man of the squad, Rog was a bearcat on defense; at the same time he managed to split the cords for 116 counters.

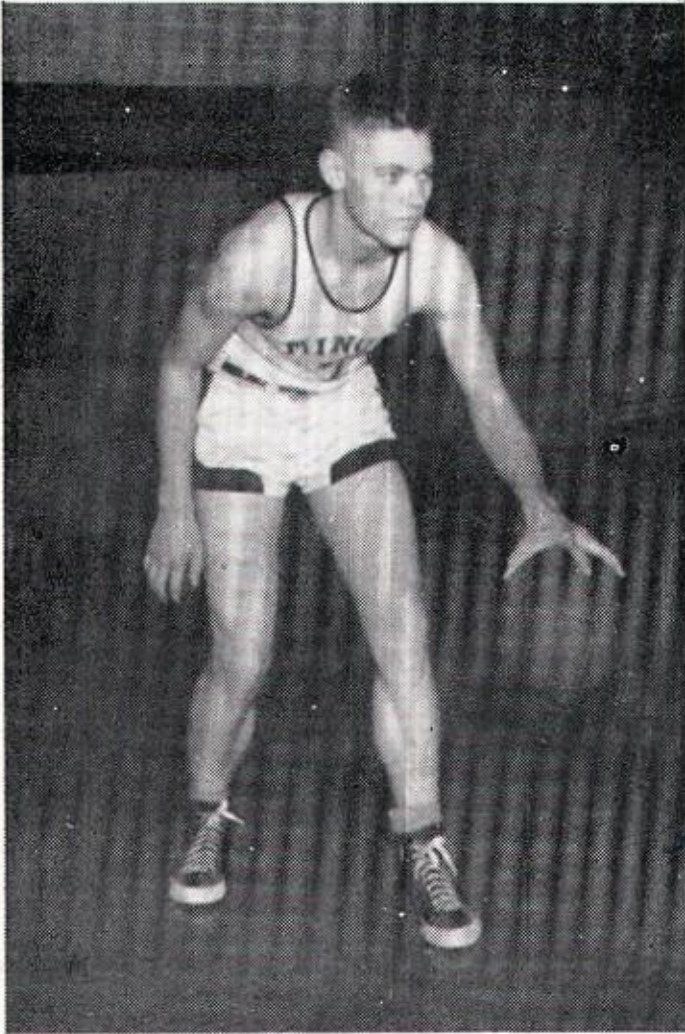

MANDAN

Imitating a runaway adding machine the Magicians totaled in 64 points but also subtotalled Mandan with 48. Banjo Eyes cranked up 22 to take the nights figure fling. Minot's second string played a goodly portion of the game and matched the Braves point for point.

Don Chewakin—Sr.; 5'11". A real asset to the team, "Chewky" tallied 50 markers to help the Magician cause.

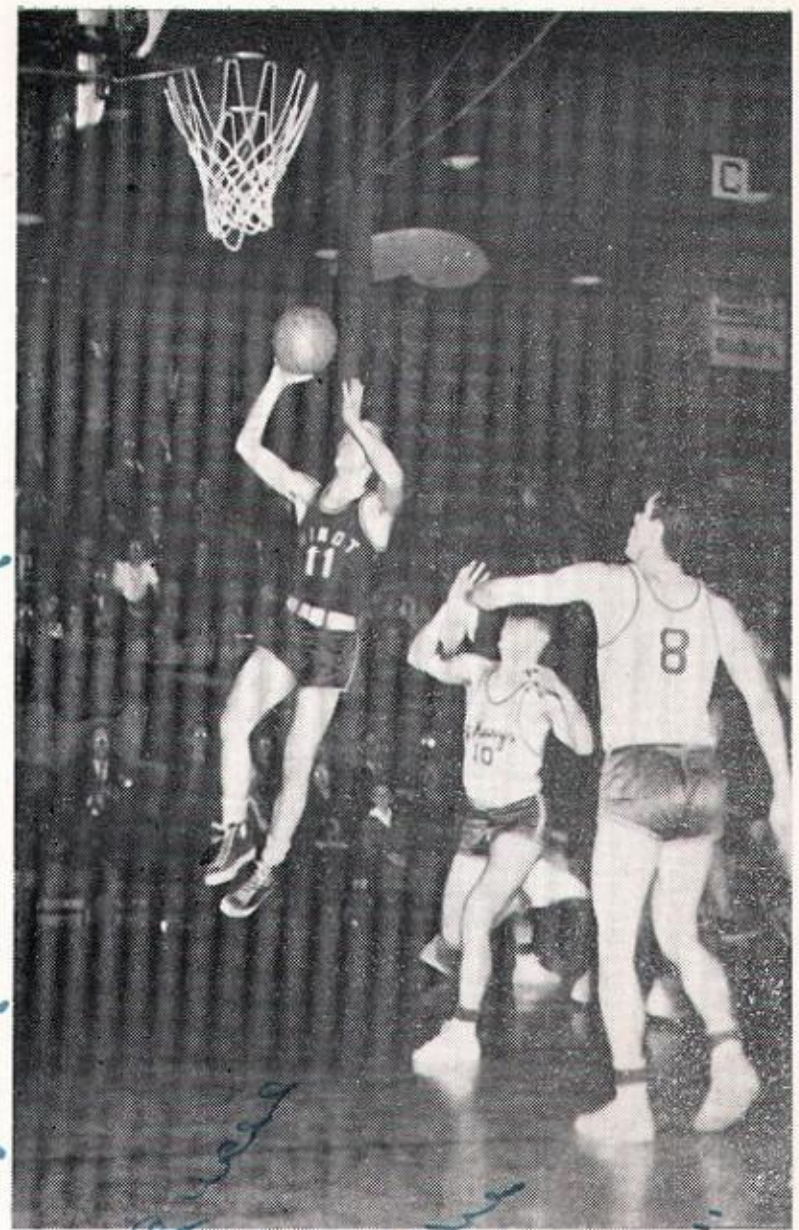

Ken Olson

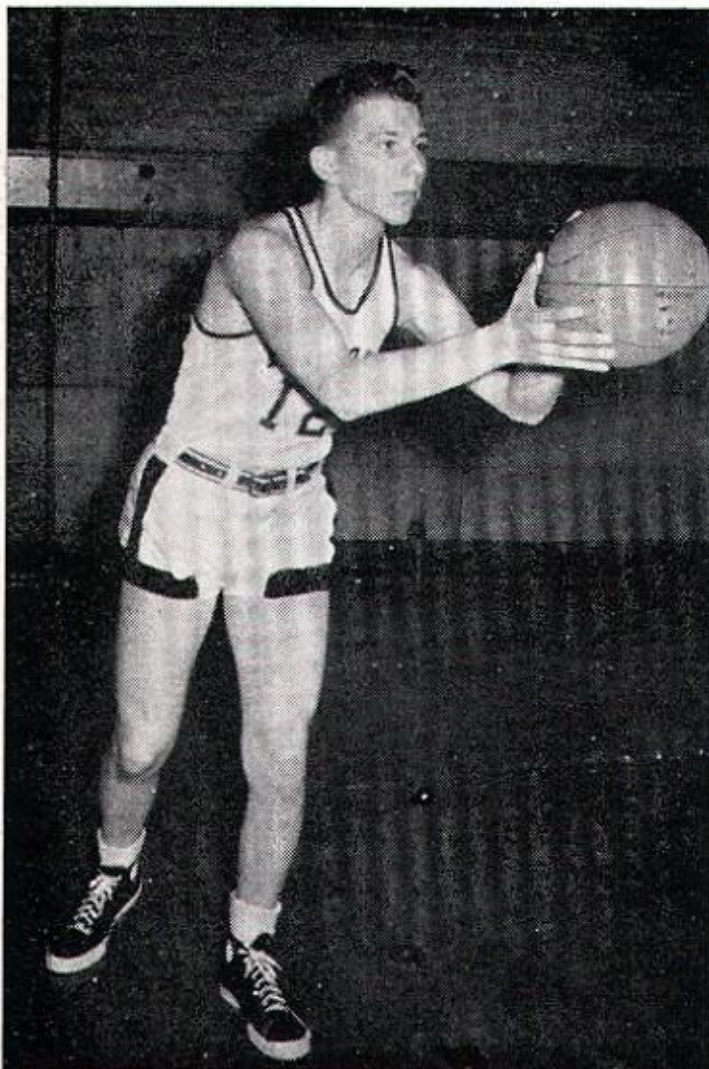

Ken Olson—Sr.; 5'11". Although not on the starting five, Ken played nearly as much as any of the regulars. Incidentally, he flipped 55 points through the net.

ST. LEO'S

Minot washed down number 15 with a mite portion of Lion's blood, while St. Leo's gagged on their eleventh defeat, 57-28. Petrich scraped the bench of players and thus sprinkled the scoring, Wolfe being the biggest spray.

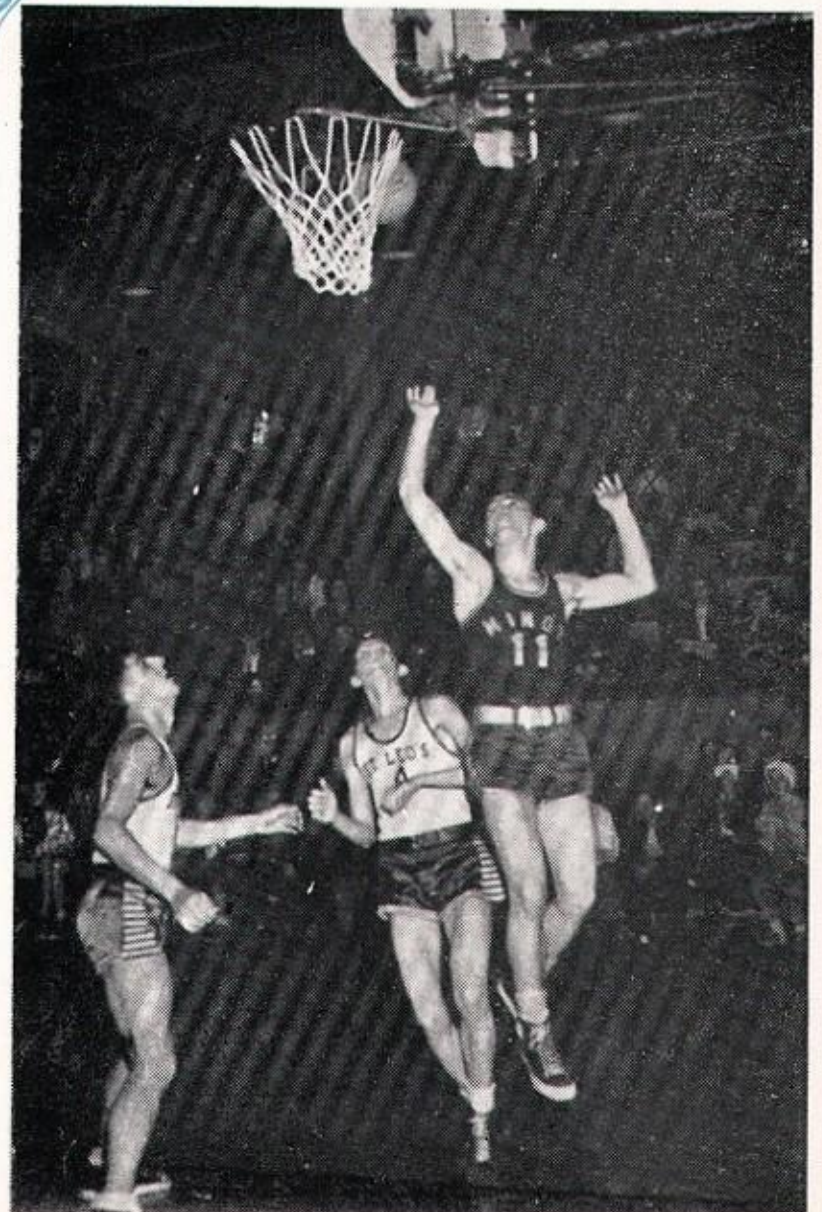

Nelson Lampert

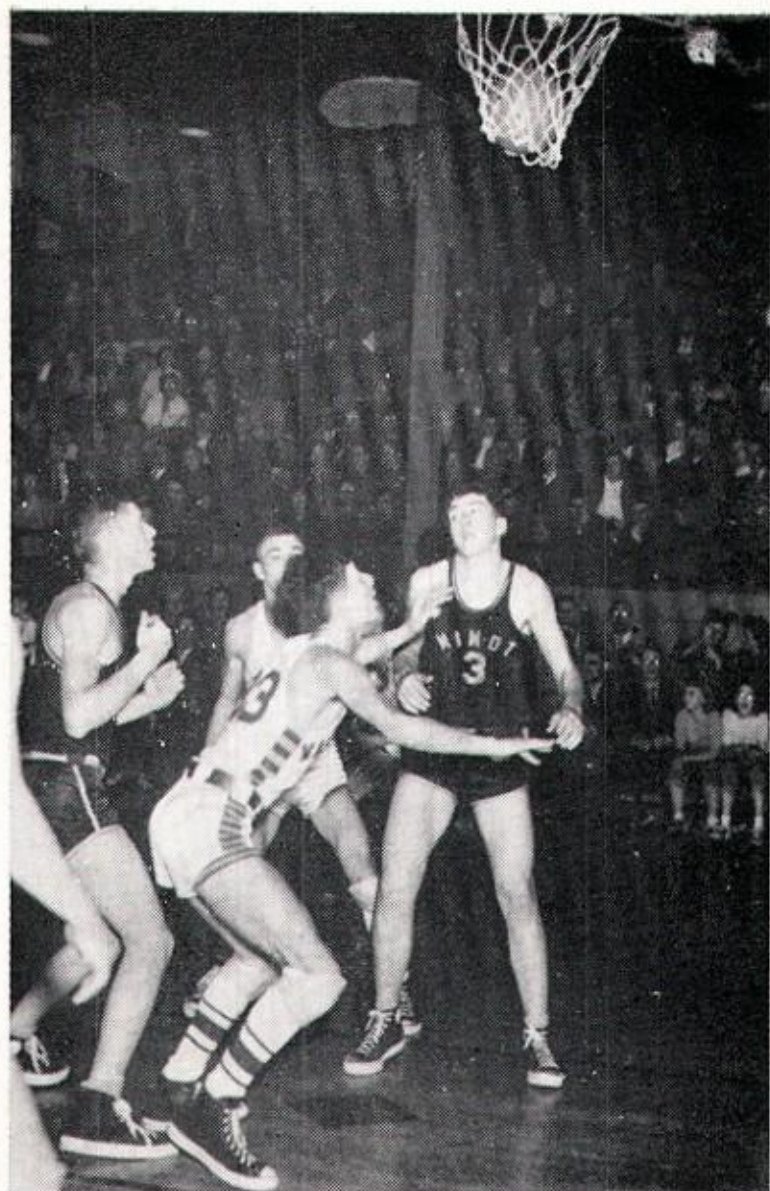

Nelson Lampert—Jr.; 6' Although he scored only 7 points this season, Nels showed a marked improvement toward the end of the campaign; keep your eye on this boy next year.

ST. MARY'S

The Saints left the Magic City with their halos crumpled by the Magi wand, 47-35. Banjo Eyes cued in 15 points and as for defense . . . need we say more? This was Minot's 18th victory against 18 less defeats.

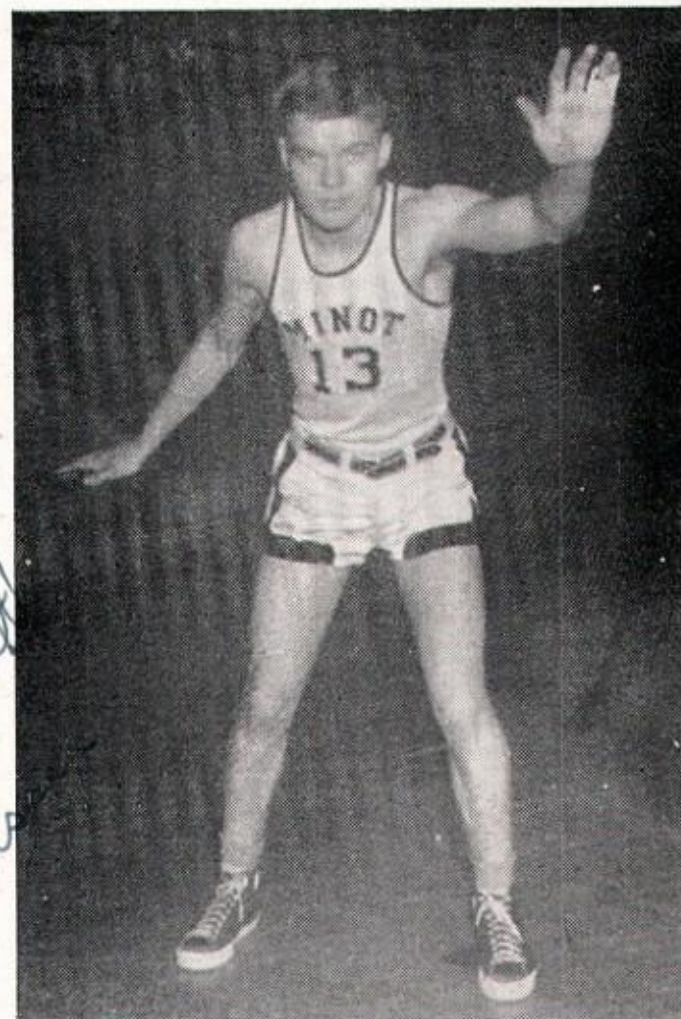

WAHPETON

Getting back into the swing of things after their first defeat, Minot turned back the Wops in 49-43 time. Wolfe led the band and beboped in 23 points. Wally was again the man of the defensive hour. This was probably Minot's worst home court showing of the season.

You have pretty pictures they aint near as pretty as yours. So's of luck. Leamon Hanson

Leamon Hanson

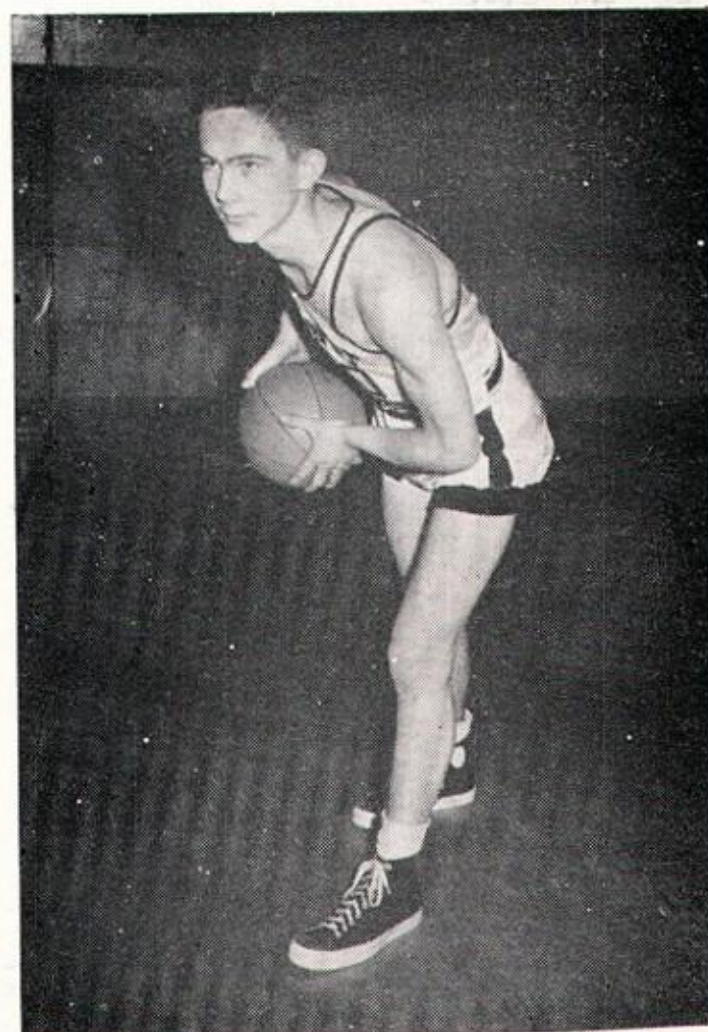

Leamon Hanson—Jr.; 6'. As well as being one of the more rugged exponents on the art of rebounding, Leamon managed to left-hand 28 points through the hoop.

FACULTY

With absolutely no respect for their gray-haired elders, the champions zeroed in on a 62-39 win. Parker and "Hooker" Petrich paced the shufflers with 9 and 8. "Hooker" was awfully mean on his left handed hook (see picture).

Ted Luedke

Ted Luedke—Jr.; 5'10". Although Ted didn't possess an excessive amount of natural ability, he showed enough drive and determination to attain a berth on the squad—scored 14 points too.

Jerry Ingalls

Jerry Ingalls—Jr.; 5'10". Jerry also showed much improvement towards the latter portion of the season, and even though he netted only one free-throw this year, he'll need watching in 1950.

Bismarck Playoffs

The curtain rose triumphantly for the Minot boys in the first game of the western opener. Dickinson lived up to their name, Midgets, in both height and scoring, 47-30. McGinley one-armed in 18 points and was followed closely by the wierd wonder of fanatic southpaws, "Banjo Eyes" Wolfe, with 15. Roger Huizenga started this game with what turned out to be the best series of his many solid nights.

The Braves hooted and hollered but the scoring tomahawk wasn't being thrown too well, and the Great White Chiefs came away with the scalp and 53-41 massacre. "Chuck" warmed the net with 24 wampam, the most points scored in the pow-wow.

The Saints were hot as pistols in the final, and hit the bullseye and the red circle enough to hand Minot their second defeat 46-42. Don Wilhelm was really gone for the Saints and Wolfe was gone after 3 quarters with 12 points. Second place was not exactly what the Magicians were seeking, but then, that's the way the ball bounces.

FARGO

WAHPETON

Minot overcame the Fargo press and squashed a few scoring berries with their bare feet, 51-45. The game was nip-and-tuck the first half, but in the fourth quarter McGinley and Wolfe nipped the basket and put Minot out in front decisively. Wolfe gathered enough grapes and a few raisins for a basketfull of points, 23 to be exact. Huizenga, Varberg, and McGinley stained their hands with rebounds on both ends of the floor and Selk carried on in his usual smooth manner.

"To be or not to be," quoth Hamlet, "To have or not to have jackets," quoth Wolfe. The solid flesh did not melt but it got quite warm in the first quarter and dissolved itself into a 15-4 lead. Wahpeton warmed to a toasty brown in the second quarter and almost matched the Magi but stayed back, 23-21. Get thee to a basket, ball was the watch-word in the last half. Ken Olson bid adieu, adieu, remember me with a brilliant last quarter. Minot built up the score until at the end the crown came with 47-37 karat gold. Wolfe glistened in 16 nuggets and Varberg discovered 12 sparklers. The team as a whole (not in the defense) picked a good time for a fine showing.

Playmakers is a purely dramatic organization in which the ideas of human relationship and understanding are inculcated. This group is entered only after spending an apprentice year in playmakers reserves. In this organization theater fundamentals are taught, making it possible to devote all the time in playmakers to the production of good plays. Playmakers are supposed to be keeping up with New York productions and new plays through which they try to keep up with theatrical news. This year's season included three excellent plays. The season was closed with a trip to Minneapolis and a formal banquet and dance.

Row 1: Mr. Kirschbaum, Joan Teets, Greta Breaw, Marilyn Olson, Arvada Peterson.

Thespian society is an honorary group within playmakers. All of the members must meet certain standards regulated by the National Thespian society. This group spends time in producing and reading plays. In order to stay in good standing, work with scenery, costumes, makeup, lighting, and acting must be accomplished. After entering playmakers each duty performed is rewarded with points, one point being awarded for each fifteen hours of work. Ten points are necessary for entrance to Thespian society. Then for each additional ten points a star is added.

This year Thespians chose an official pin for itself. It is a gold-plated pin set with pearls with a guard chain from which stars are suspended.

Dear U Jean!

Boy are you a humble thing - I have to admit that those self portraits of yours in this book are pretty good though! It's sure been fun knowing you all those years - but you always kept forgetting that I'm tall & skinny! All that kidding has really been fun and I'll really miss it next year. All the best to you & my best pal - you're a great pal!

Hi Gene, not
Mr. D.

Dear Gene —

Well the year — just about all over now.

It's sure been lots of fun — This senior year especially. What — He!!

This is bound to get confusing — What I should really do is write in a circle but then you'd never read it — The Prom was sure a lot of fun — Of course the Jr. was the best.

But the senior had its swell times too — It's been fun going with you this last year and hay or so — I won't ever remember M. H. S. with out remembering the fun we had.

Sometime when you a big wheel down portraits in pairs

maybe you can stop by the Parathema and see me — This isn't making much sense. I can't say much for I in only a little smarter than you. Class mite I think you would the handsomest ever — Those earrings are what did it — Real pearl — Did you say your last name was Dehauser? Well sure you in such a hurry I'd better and this — I want to wish you loads of luck in the future (like everyone else does) Have lots of fun, be good, & remember M. H. S. and me maybe too

you're not too bad for being a senior & a drummer (drummer?)
But kid as far as being a senior — I wouldn't have one in the house — Be good — he! he!

he! he!

Just a "fresh" but that's O.K.

Polly

Well, Wicks: I suppose you are going out into the world with a big smile on your face pardon the expression) Remembering all the good times. Well again big boy I hope you have much success in all that you try. It has been too short a time and not right. I hope to see you around Wicks and I know college will be fun.

Love

from your friend (get this)

John Able Dehauser.

May 27, 1949

Dear Gene:

Well the days are gradually coming closer. Don't it give you a funny feeling to know that we won't be together after this year. It sure has been fun running around with a bunch of guys like you. I thought we were the best bunch because we all seemed to have the right ideas and all believed in the same kind of fun. I will always remember the trip to the lake and the fine pictures you took of me! (If you don't burn them babies someone will blackmail me.) Remember the trip to Williston last year and the trip to Sidney this year. (Nice Short Cut) we took. I guess this last year will never be forgotten. We had everything in the senior class. Always remember the bookkeeping class. We sure were smart and I honestly believe I will make a good bookkeeper. Well I could go on and on raving of this and that but all I can say is you're one of the sweetest kids I have ever met. I only wish I would have started going around with you sooner.

P.S.

Remember the 11/9 ers"

Lots of luck to a swell
Kid,

Wally
Varberg

(Your art is a credit to you!)

Hi Gene,

I'm not going to write, as so many other have, that it's all over now & that we're thru. Do you think so? High school has just been the foundation for all the fun coming the way of us gals & guys. It's been fun knowing you for our school years. Bonny & you are certainly a fine couple to be around. She's always Marilyn Olson

Hi Gene,
 Well no more English, we sure have had a lot of fun, even if you do give me a bad time.
 It sure has been fun, knowing you in school all these years.
 I wish all the luck
 in the world sounds coming doesn't lots of luck
 Hope Leslie
 just see"

Hi Gene,
 It's been fun going to school with you and being in the same class. Lots of luck to you in the future.

Dear So & So, - Eugene,
 This year I've surely missed that old familiar saying - hey "but" anyhow
 we have 3 glorious years behind us - and what's before us heaven knows.
 Good luck to a small

 this book a success.
